I am excited to announce the Cubanako^a Foundation's Havana Jazz Celebration, December 8 - 16, 2017! Join our intimate group of foodies and cultural enthusiasts as we explore the sights, sounds, and history of Havana while walking the cobblestone streets. Be a part of this extraordinary event with VIP access to the best venues, shows, and restaurants in Havana. Learn about Cuban history and how the influences of Africa, Europe, and native Cuba have fused to create a music scene like nowhere else on earth! Don't miss this opportunity!

Proceeds will go towards the sustainable revitalization of Guanabacoa creating jobs and projects in areas including cultural preservation, organic farming, workforce development training and leadership and peace education.

Additional highlights of the program includes in-depth tour of historic Guanabacoa the once sacred homeland of native Cuban Indians, visit the Hatuey Canoe at the Antonio Nuñez Foundation for Nature and Humanity and visit to Organiponico Alamar organic farm. The tour will also include tobacco farm and rum factory visits to allow you to connect with local people in their place of work and receive insight into not just the production processes of these products but also learn about workplace culture in Cuba. This tour is specially designed to allow you to connect and engage with your soon to be friends and family in Guanabacoa and Havana as you will be able to dine and jazz through the evenings with them or just relax to a tranquil Cuban bolero at a bar nearby the centrally located hotel.
